WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

The internet is an amazing tool. It has the power to change the way we live, and we are starting to see that potential today. With only a few mouse clicks, you can follow the news, look up facts, buy goods and services, and communicate with others from around the world. In this regard, it is important for NCPB to help our customers retain their privacy when they use the internet.

We believe your business is no one else's. Your privacy is important to you and to us. On this, we will protect the information you share with us. To protect your privacy, NCPB follows a set of principles in accordance with best practices for customer privacy and data protection.

- We will not sell or give away your name, mail address, phone number, email address or any other information to a third party.
- We will ensure that your information is well protected from unauthorized users.

NOTICE

We will ask you when we need information that personally identifies you (personal information) or allows us to contact you. Generally, this information is requested when you create a Registration ID on the site or when you download documents, enter a contest or order an email or newsletter. We use your personal information for four primary purposes.

- To make the site easier for you to use by not having to enter information more than once.

- To help you quickly find products, services or information.
- To help us create content that is most relevant to you.
- To alert you of products release, special offers, updated information and other new services from NCPB.

CONSENT

If you choose not to register or provide personal information, you can still use most of the NCPB's website. But you will not be able to access areas that require registration.

If you decide to register, you will be able to select the kinds of information you want to receive from us by subscribing to various services, like our newsletter. If you do not want NCPB to communicate with you about other offers regarding its products, programs, events or services by email or telephone you have the option to state that you do not wish to receive marketing messages from NCPB.

NCPB may sometimes offer products and services of other agencies and partners to our registered customers. If you do not want to receive these offers, you may opt out at any time.
